

This is a detailed cadastral map of the village of Rennaz, France. The map shows the layout of the village, including buildings, roads, and agricultural fields. The village center is located in the middle of the map, with a cluster of buildings and a church. Surrounding the village are various fields and pastures, many of which are labeled with names like 'Les Cornettes', 'Grand Clos', and 'Grand Mas'. The map is color-coded with various shades of blue, green, yellow, and brown, likely representing different types of land or ownership. The map is also labeled with numerous place names and parcel numbers, providing a detailed view of the local geography and land use.